

Jazz festival to live on?

LYME Regis Jazz Festival, having celebrated its 21st anniversary, is set to live on despite fears earlier this year that the annual summer event would fold.

By Philip Evans

Organisers announced the cancellation of the festival at the beginning of the year due to a lack of help and financial concerns over payments being claimed by the Performing Rights Society. But local hotelier Tony Colston, with support from the View from Lyme Regis, jumped into the breach and took over the running of last weekend's 21st anniversary event, assisted by long-serving organiser John Fry.

And whilst attendance figures were lower than in previous years, Mr Colston told the View that they were "very pleased" with how the event went off and were hopeful that the festival would continue in the future.

"Although numbers were down, the feedback has been very positive. We were very pleased with the DYLAN Hanby, 19, has lived in and around Bridport for most of his life before recently moving to London to study for a photography degree.

Apart from a couple of years living with family in America, Dylan grew up in Dorset and last year completed his photography, media studies and art A-levels at the Sir John Colfox School.

After developing a love for photography at the age of 10-years-old, Dylan set his sight on pursuing his hobby as a career and is currently studying for a photography degree at Middlesex University.

As a self-employed photographer Dylan mainly works with bands and theatre groups but occasionally does modelling work, following a chance encounter at university.

DO you prefer life in London to Bridport?

London is where it all happens and for my line of work it's the place to be. But I do love coming back here.

WHAT inspired you to take up photography?

When I was about 10-years-old my dad gave me a basic digital camera and I've been taking photos ever since.

WHAT are your favourite things to photograph?

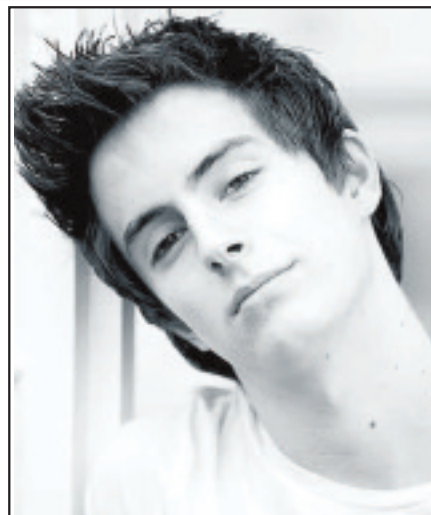

I used to love shooting landscapes but now I'm more into documentary shots and urban photography.

WHAT would be your dream job?

Working in film. Being sent to locations around the world to get photo board shots for films.

WHICH photographers do you admire?

Ansel Adams was one of the first photographers I looked at, his work inspired me to take photos.

WHAT would be your top three tips for an amateur photographer?

To get into photography you have to have the passion for it, dedication and technical skill. The first two are more important, you can pick up the third one over time.

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

HOW did you get into modelling?

Through my university course. A local photographer was there using the darkrooms, I started talking with them and they put me on to some modelling agencies. I remember them saying, "you've defiantly got the look", ha ha.

IF you won the lottery, how would you spend the money?

I'd travel around the world with my girlfriend taking photographs everywhere I go.

ARE there any places you'd particularly like to visit?

I'd like to go back to Austin, Texas where I lived for a while and then travel around America. Also, I'd like to go to Italy where I have family and Thailand again.

WHERE do you see yourself in five years time?

No idea. Probably living in a place in London working under a photography company.

WHO would be your three dream guests at a dinner party?

Akira Kurosawa, director of some of my favourite films. Adam Duritz, lead singer of Counting Crows, my favourite band, and Henri Carter Bresson, one of my favourite photographers.

WHAT was the last book you read, film you watched and CD you listened to?

The last film I watched was Minority Report, the last book was Dazed and Confused, and the last CD was The Cinematic Orchestra.

Updating blueprint for Lyme

LYME Forward, the organisation that has been working on shaping the future of Lyme Regis for the next couple of decades, is seeking further consultation from the public to establish priorities for the immediate future.

Lyme Forward, set up by Lyme Regis Development Trust, put together a community plan for the town in 2007 after extensive consultation with townspeople over their aspirations for the resort. The document concentrated on seven themed headings - economy, environment, health,

by Philip Evans

well-being and safer communities, housing, sports, culture and lifelong learning, traffic and transport and young people.

Since then a number of initiatives have been introduced to deliver the aims set out in the community plan.

Lyme Forward is now holding a series of public forums for their plans to be updated. The next one will take place on Wednesday, July 13th in the Guildhall (7pm-8pm) when views will be sought on two of the themes - health, well-being and safer communities and sport, leisure and lifelong learning.

Development Trust chairman Wendy Davies said they wanted to hear residents' views on the future of Lyme, adding: "This is a chance for the public to say if we are going in the right direction and to help set the priorities for the next two-to-three years."

Achievements

As well as the obvious successes of the Development Trust in recent years, such as the opening of a Sure Start centre and the establishment of the fossil festival and arts-fest, Lyme Forward have been beavering away to deliver a better standard of living for the people of Lyme.

Here are some of their achievements:

- ◆ Setting up of Turn Lyme Green and establishing a garden share scheme
- ◆ Setting up a breakfast club at St Michael's Primary School as well as providing hot lunches
- ◆ Co-ordinating events for the over 50s in conjunction with Age Concern and POPPS
- ◆ Setting up of an Over 50s Lunch Club
- ◆ Co-ordinating the campaign to save Lyme Regis Library from closure
- ◆ Setting up a Credit Union in Lyme Regis

Lyme Forward has also accessed several supportive grants for local organisations and has worked hand-in-hand with Lyme Regis Town Council on a number of issues.

Two ideas currently being pursued are the setting up of a food bank and working with POPPS to create a befriending scheme in Lyme Regis.

New Rotary President

IN TUNE with Rotary Clubs all over the world, June 30th was 'Handover Day', when a new President takes office in the local clubs and a new Rotary Year begins.

The Rotary Club of Lyme Regis welcomed incoming President David Bettes, who lives in Charmouth, seen here receiving his chain of office from outgoing President Denis Yell. It will be David's second term as President. He last served the club in that capacity in session 2001-2002, but in the intervening years has worked diligently for the club in a variety of posts.

"We are lucky to have David as our President in these challenging times", said Rotarian John McCallum. "He is an energetic leader, and full of ideas for the future of the club".

If you wish to find out more about the Lyme club, which raises around £10,000 annually for local and international charities, or about Rotary in general, see www.lymeregistry.org, or contact secretary@lymeregistry.org.

Floral tribute to the lifeboat service

A WORK of art in flowers is drawing the admiration of walkers in Lyme Regis' Langmoor Gardens.

A flower bed designed and planted by the town council's head groundsman Barry Trott and his team is a colourful tribute to the RNLI's 150 years of service to the town. The anniversary is being marked during Lifeboat Week later this month with a special event on July 28th.

Barry and his colleagues planted the flower bed with lobelia, pyrethum, marigold and begonia ...a total of 4,500 plants in all.

"It took three of us a whole day to plant," said Barry, "but we are delighted with the result. It was a real challenge and gave us great satisfaction."

"The plants should remain in full colour until the first frost."

Hopes that jazz festival will continue old ones and we are encouraged that we can take the event forward."

Mr Colston said the PRS licensing was still an issue to be resolved, stressing the point that the festival was a

"non-profit" organisation, but added: "We are looking forward to running the event again next year."

"We have some great ideas and we hope the festival will go ahead again next year and bring even more visitors to Lyme Regis."

Mr Colston paid tribute to the volunteers who had worked so hard over the weekend to stage the festival, especially John Fry who had given "such stalwart service over the years".

One of the highlights of the festival once again was the parade of decorated umbrellas on Saturday morning, led by town croer Phil Street and parade marshal Val Chambers.

Following the opening ceremony by the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman on Friday evening, there was a non-stop programme of jazz at the four main venues - Marine Theatre, Masonic Hall, Pilot Boat and Royal Lion - and this year two new venues - the Marine Hotel and the By The Bay restaurant - also staged events.

£33,000 funding for B Sharp music project

LYME Youth Arts is launching its new B Sharp project "Hear Here" this week having been awarded £30,000 from Youth Music, the leading UK charity using music to transform the lives of disadvantaged children and young people. West Dorset District Council's Leisure Development Fund have also given a grant of £3,000 with £800 coming from Lyme Regis Town Council.

The project will run between tomorrow (Thursday) and Tuesday, July 12th when John K Miles, music leader and composer, will be working with the new B Sharp trainees at the Woodroffe School, Axe Valley Community College, Colyton Grammar and the primary schools in Lyme, Up-lyme and Charmouth, as well as the B Sharp core group who are meeting on Tuesday at the Power Boat Club between 4.30 pm and 8.30 pm.

"Hear Here" is a sound and visual portrait of Lyme Regis and its surrounding environment. Written and conceived by young people from the area, facilitated by professional and B Sharp trainee music leaders, "Hear Here" will tell a contemporary story/interpretation of 'life' in Lyme Regis on the Jurassic Coast World Heritage Site.

There will be different strands to the project; song writing, instrumental composition, visual and sonic art, and participants will be building a library of sounds providing an opportunity for them to develop their own ideas and try out new things. The project will be structured around a series of workshops culminating in various performance and installations.

Sally Clements, Regional Executive Officer (south west south) said: "Youth Music recognise the positive impact that coming together to make music can have on young people.

"B Sharp are very experienced in providing high quality musical experiences for children and young people in the Lyme Regis area and we are very pleased to be able to support them to develop this work further over the coming year".

Project manager Fran Williams said: "Lyme Youth Arts B Sharp Music project has earned a reputation for being a highly successful grassroots organisation that prides itself on the quality and impact of its creative work with young people. We invest in young people through our trainee scheme (16-25 years) where young adults that are musicians/artists work alongside professionals to provide a genuine pathway for young people to develop their skills and interests through work experience."

Anyone who would like to be involved in any aspect of the project should contact fran@bsharp.uk.com or on 07968 177 663, or go to www.bsharp.uk.com for further information.

Filming in Lyme for hungry sailors TV programme

Dick and his son James visited the Town Mill Cheesemonger and the Old Watch House Fish Shop at the Cobb to film "The Hungry Sailors", which will be broadcast on ITV in October.

The father and son duo also visited other local food producers and cooked a goat curry at West Bay on the Wednesday.

Former mayor 'disgusted' over grants allocation

LYME Regis Town Council has handed out £17,854 to 24 local organisations in their annual grant allocation - a third of £52,038 asked for.

Councillors struggled to stick to their budget of £17,914 when deciding on the grants at a special meeting last Tuesday. Their original donations totalled £21,427 - an overspend of £3,513. It was then suggested that all donations should be reduced by 18 per cent which would put them back on budget, but some councillors argued that three organisations - the Axe Valley Ring and Ride, Bridport and District Citizens Advice Bureau and Victim Support - were "crucial" to the local community and should still be given the full amount they requested.

It was then decided not to cut the grants given to these three organisations, but to reduce the rest by 21 per cent, with the Citizens Advice Bureau receiving the largest donation of £2,905.

Disgusted

Councillor Michaela Ellis said she was "totally disgusted" with the way the grants had been distributed and cut. She said she had been suggesting amounts that would pay for certain projects the organisations were running, rather than all of them, throughout the meeting and believed this was a fair way forward.

The Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, said: "We are all aware this is not a perfect system for the grants". And she asked councillors to come forward with a better process at a later date.

Applications from Lyme Regis Operatic Society, which requested £2,500 towards its next production, and St Michael's Parish Church Flower Festival, which asked for £500 towards the production and sale of 2012 calendars, were both rejected. Lyme Bay Photographic Club only received £40 of its requested £300 for a new laptop, foam board and for maintaining its website. Lyme Regis Gig Club was also given a small donation of £79 after requesting £500 toward a new wooden gig.

LYME REGIS TOWN COUNCIL NEWS By Francesca Evans

Lyme Regis Development Trust, which requested £4,000 toward re-siting the current library, received the second highest grant of £2,370, with LymeNET receiving a further £1,953 for a new photocopier/printer, and the trust's property management section receiving £395 for new windows for LymeNET at St Michael's Business Centre.

Full list

The full list of grants are as follows with requested amounts and reasons in brackets:

Axe Valley Ring and Ride Service - £1,000 (requested £1,000 for provision of community transport for those with special needs); Bridport and District Citizens Advice Bureau - £2,905 (£2,905 for cost of running Lyme Regis outreach station); Lyme Bay Baden-Powell Scouts - £395 (£2,905 for purchase of storage trailer); Lyme Bay Photographic Club - £40 (£300 for new laptop, foam board and website maintenance); LymeNET - £1,953 (£2,472 for new photocopier/printer); Lyme Regis ArtsFest - £158 (£200 for ArtsFest 2011 in September); Lyme Regis Community Events - £1,185 (£3,200 for provision of community activities); Lyme Regis Development Trust - £2,370 (£4,000 for library/housing project); Lyme Regis Development

Trust Property Management - £395 (£1,000 for new windows for LymeNET); Lyme Regis Football Club - £790 (£3,500 for purchase of new heavy roller, chairs, tables and gravel for outside areas); Lyme Regis Fossil Festival - £790 (£2,000 for pre-festival marketing and promotion for 2012); Lyme Regis Gig Club - £79 (£500 for new wooden gig); Lyme Regis Girl Guides - £198 (£400 for new uniforms, sports, craft and orienteering equipment); Lyme Regis Majorettes - £545 (£3,000 for new uniforms); Lyme Regis Operatic Society - £0 (£2,500 for next production); Lyme Regis Pantomime Society - £237 (£600 for backcloth for next production); Lyme Regis Museum - £593 (£2,947 for new lighting); Lyme Regis Taekwondo Club - £166 (£210 for purchase of equipment); Lyme Regis Youth Football - £395 (£500 for new equipment and CRB checks and training for adults); B Sharp - £790 (£2,000 for "Hear Here" project); Lyme Youth Theatre - £395 (£500 for upcoming productions); St Michael's Parish Church Flower Festival - £0 (£500 for production and sale of 2012 calendars); Town Mill Trust - £790 (£4,000 for PV solar panels); Uplyme and Lyme Regis Cricket Club - £395 (£500 for equipment and coaching training for project with Woodroffe School students); Victim Support (Dorset) - £500 (£500 for volunteer training); Woodmead Halls Management Committee - £790 (£10,000 for overhauling of the stage area, including a third dressing room and office).

Summer fun at Woodberry Down

WOODBERRY Down Activity Centre in Lyme Regis will host a week of exciting adventure days in the summer holidays.

The days will give local children the opportunity to experience outdoor activities, including archery and climbing, to challenge themselves and make new friends. Other activities will include abseiling, fossil hunting, bushcraft, circus skills and more.

The adventure days will be held at the centre between August 1st and 5th from 9am to 4pm and are open to eight to 12 year olds.

Activity centre tutor, Clair Mountjoy, said: "With different activities each day there really is something for everyone. Places are limited so children will need to book early."

Community effort wins £60K for The Hub

A HUGE community effort has helped campaigners for The Hub in Lyme Regis win £60,000 of Lotto Money.

The Hub was one of six finalists in an ITV West Country contest to win a chunk of the national lottery's Jubilee People's Millions.

Campaigners for the youth club project discovered they had beaten the Portland Gig Rowing Club to the funding on Wednesday afternoon, finding out the results of their efforts on camera.

ITV Westcountry News presenter Bob Cruwys broke the good news to The Hub campaign team at Woodroffe School.

Supporters were only given one day to vote for The Hub and organisers praised the efforts of campaigners who blitzed the town and social networking sites with promotion of the campaign on Tuesday.

After hearing the news, project leader Lily Shorten said: "I'm so excited, we have worked so hard. I just think the way the whole community has come together and been really pro-young people has been great. Even if we weren't to win, the amount of support we've had from everyone has been amazing, knowing now that young people belong here, we feel a sense that people really do care about us.

"I can't even begin to explain how much The Hub will improve young people's lives in Lyme Regis, not just for us but for generations to come. I really can't wait to see what it's going to be like."

Project development officer Fran Williams added: "The way that people rallied yesterday to make it happen was just fantastic.

"This money will really make such a big difference to The Hub but it is also bringing people together in the town. What has been so remarkable about this project has been the young people. They generate great energy and enthusiasm, this is their project and the fact that we have won this is very much down to them and their enthusiasm for it."

Marcus Dixon of Lyme Regis Development Trust said the funding would help to pay for major infrastructure work at the Church Street building, including rood repairs, enabling further fundraising efforts to pay for more exciting projects.

"It means that the money we are raising in the town through fundraising is actually going to be spent putting the cream on the cake. It's going to be putting in the sound recording studio and all the things the young people themselves would like to see happening in there," he said.

Mr Dixon also praised the efforts of the young people who led the campaign.

"It's been a real pleasure to work with the young people, they have really been the imagination and the drive behind this.

"One of the things it has demonstrated to me is that the creativity and energy that young people bring is incredible. They transformed this campaign, they are going to be central to what happens in The Hub and that place is going to be like a dynamo. If we can just capture this energy in the town it's just going to be the most fantastic project. I've been doing this job for 11 years and this has been the best project I've been involved in."

Mark Cotton, head of the South West region of the Big Lottery Fund, also praised the young people behind the campaign.

"I think they ran a superb campaign. I have witnessed it firsthand on Twitter and it's been amazing to see," he said.

"The key to this project is that it has been led by young people and it's for young people. That's been reflected in the way the campaign was run and it has paid dividends."

Supporters of The Hub are now hoping to win a further £100,000 funding for solar panels for the club to generate its own electricity, offered through an "Energyshare" scheme run by British Gas and River Cottage, headed by local celebrity chef Hugh Fearnley-Whittingstall.

Campaigners were working hard at the end of last week to win votes for this new opportunity but the competition is now closed.

21st jazz festival swelters in the

The 21st annual Jazz Festival in Lyme Regis was officially opened by the Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, accompanied by mayor Jane Whittington, on Friday afternoon.

Town crier Phil Street, councillors and jazz fans gathered at Cobb Gate for the opening ceremony and enjoyed music by the Chicago Jazz Aces.

The Mayor thanked John Fry for all his effort in organising previous festivals, and Tony Colston, from By The Bay restaurant, for continuing the organisation of the 22st anniversary event.

The colourful umbrella parade was held on Saturday morning in scorching sunshine, led down Broad Street and along Marine Parade by the upbeat Louisiana Parade Band, town crier and marshal Val Chambers. Many danced down the town with decorated and rainbow-coloured umbrellas, including the mayor and mayoress, and were followed by the Lyme-based Italian Piaggio Tuc Tuc car, named Tukxi, which was also decorated with brollies.

The procession finished outside Jane's Café on the Cart Road, where the Mayor presented cash prizes for the best umbrellas. Jack Saunders came first in the children's category and his twin sister, Erin, came third, with Holly Thomas visiting from Taunton taking second place. John Hooper, from Hemyock, won the adult's category.

All children taking part were given a voucher for a free ice-cream at the Ice Cream Dream kiosk.

DORSET'S own award winning Ace Energy are the leading suppliers of solar power. Recently they have installed solar at a number of homes within Dorset. With the average electricity bill being around £600 yearly, installing solar on your roof can reduce that bill by up to 50% and provide home owners and landlords with a healthy profit. This is due to the Feed-In Tariff scheme which pays premium rates for power generated from solar power - Dorset households on the scheme are now earning over £850 every year. The tax free, inflation-proof payouts are designed to protect the UK from ever-rising energy prices and help lower carbon emissions. You may have noticed an increase in the amount of roofs proudly showing off their solar panels recently and according to Alan Seviour, Ace Energy's MD, solar has never been more popular.

With interest rates at an all time low investment savvy householders are looking for alternative ways to earn money and solar power offers just that.

Sleepy town - no way!

WELCOME back to my Summertime in Lyme column.

I can't quite believe it's already the time of year to bring you my weekly updates on all the town's top events, but I'm looking forward to spending summer in Lyme having now finished my journalism degree in Southampton.

As well as covering the usual events, I'm also looking for lots of summer activities to try out. I'll be fossil hunting, rock pooling, taking guided tours of the town and I've even been promised a ride in Lyme's new Tuc Tuc car, Tukxi, which seems to be grabbing the attention of many.

If you would like me to try out a summer activity to feature in this column, please get in touch by emailing francesca@pemedial.co.uk or phone 01297 446144.

My family and I started the season in great fashion - but not in Lyme.

My dad was invited to the Royal Garden Party at Buckingham Palace last week and we all got to go along for a glimpse of the Queen and Prince Philip, and a slice of cake.

Local GP, Dr Forbes Watson, and his wife Noreen also attended, although we couldn't find them amongst the huge crowds in the palace gardens.

It was such a privilege to be invited, a great day out and such a memorable occasion for the family (although no sign of Wills and Kate, to my disappointment!).

It was also a good excuse to dress up for the day in our finest, even dad wore a morning suit!

Dad has reported on numerous people going to the Palace over the years but never thought the would end up there himself, having been nominated for all the community work and fundraising he has done over the years.

It was a never-to-be forgotten day out for all of us and dad treated us to lunch at the Savoy Grill before we made our way to Buckingham Palace

Since coming home from London it's been non-stop - last weekend the town hosted the 21st annual Lyme Regis Jazz Festival, including the colourful Umbrella Parade, which regular readers of this column will know is one of my favourite local events and the best way to start summer.

The View got more involved with the Jazz Festival this year, helping to keep it going, and hopefully it will remain a part of Lyme's early summer scene for many years to come.

I was also helping out at the Summer Charity Ball on Friday, organised by the Lyme Regis Branch of Cancer Research UK, a brilliant event, and the weekend also saw Lyme Regis Football Club's annual dinner and presentation night and the Mayor's civic service and parade. Who ever said Lyme was a sleepy town? I've barely been to sleep!

I'm sure things aren't likely to slow down soon, with the town's two biggest events of the year, Lifeboat Week and Regatta and Carnival Week, approaching fast.

This summer Lyme is set to look its best ever, with the official opening of the newly-refurbished Marine Parade shelters to be held this Saturday.

The Marine Parade has been opened to pedestrians again, giving a glimpse of the new shelters. Although the finishing touches are still being made, I think they are looking great and can't wait to see them put to good use.

Praise should be given to the town council and, in particular, administrative officer Vicky Stickler, for organising a whole day of events to mark the special occasion.

The programme looks great - full details were in last week's View From Lyme Regis - and the highlight will be a sail-past and salute by the town's many seafarers, for which I'm hoping to join the Mayor, Councillor Sally Holman, on a boat.

Celebrations start with a civic procession along Marine Parade at 10 am - don't miss out on what will be an important day in Lyme's history.

Plenty going on in Lyme this weekend

WATCH history being made at the opening of the new Marine Parade shelters on Saturday. A full programme of events, starting at 10am with a civic procession along Marine Parade, has been planned for the occasion.

STUDY sealife in the year of Maritime Lyme during a guided rockpooling session with Lyme Regis Museum's geologist Paddy Howe and marine biologist Chris Andrew. Sessions will be held throughout summer but the next is today (Wednesday) at 3pm.

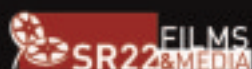

CELEBRATE the 400th anniversary of the King James Bible at any of the Lyme Regis Big Read events this week, including several readings, a lecture and quiz - see www.whatsonlylyme.co.uk for full details.

GET in the summer spirit and take a look at Lyme Regis Museum's latest exhibition "Where the Brass Band Plays" opening today - a display of local photographer Peter Wiles' work all based on summertime events.

ENJOY the return of Lyme Regis Town Band's summer evening concerts held in the new Marine Parade shelters. This week's concerts will take place on Sunday, 2.30pm to 4pm, and Tuesday at 8pm.

LEARN a new skill at one of Lyme Regis Boat Building Academy's summer short courses, starting this week. Full details of courses are available at www.boatbuildingacademy.com

SUPPORT charity and enjoy live music by rock band BOSH, who are touring the South West to raise money for the Trussell Trust, stopping at the Marine Theatre on Saturday night. Entry costs £7 for £5 for under 18s (aged 14 and over only) - tickets available on the door.

■ WOODROFFE School students pictured at The Hub where they have created an eight-panel mural

Students use Hub for mural

CREATIVE Media students from the Woodroffe School in Lyme Regis have been using the town's new youth club, The Hub, to create a massive eight-panel mural which will be the first thing visitors, students and staff will see as they drive up to the school from July 8th onwards.

Dot Wood, head of Creative Media at the school, stressed how important it had been to be able to use The Hub for such an event and how 'fantastic' it was for the students to be involved with the vote for The Hub campaign.

The mural is to be officially opened on Friday with an evening of music and entertainment, the proceeds of which will all be going towards further refurbishment of The Hub.

The programme will consist of musical items from both bands and solo singers. There will also be two short animations from year 7 and 8 students, films and design work made for local community projects this year by the Creative Media students, and to keep the audience fully engaged at all times, a music quiz with prizes donated by the generous businesses in Lyme Regis.

The event will be held in Woodroffe School Hall on Friday (July 8th) starting at 7pm. Tickets are £5 and are available from Lyme Tourist Information Centre or the Woodroffe School reception.. We look forward to seeing you on the night!

Third gig to be named Tempest

THE new wooden Cornish Pilot Gig to be built in Lyme Regis - with work commencing this October for an anticipated launch date in July 2012 - is to be named "Tempest".

Over 30 names were submitted by Gig Club members and the public. The name has links to Lyme Regis as researchers have suggested that Shakespeare's play "The Tempest" was influenced by eye witness reports of the exploits of Admiral Sir George Somers whose ship Sea Venture was wrecked on the island of Bermuda in 1609.

Lyme Regis Gig Club was founded in 2007 and since then has commissioned two wooden gigs "Rebel" and "Black Ven", The club's membership goes from strength to strength with crews competing regularly through the summer with training and recreational rowing from the Cobb and now establishing a youth section.

Club founder and chairman Marcus Dixon said: "It's clear that another wooden Cornish Pilot Gig is needed and Lyme Regis

◆ UNDER CONSTRUCTION: Boatbuilder Gail McGarva siting inside "Tempest"

Gig Club is launching an appeal and hoping to raise just over £7,000 toward the cost of building "Tempest". The club is inviting people to invest in a piece of maritime history that can trace its roots back to the 18th century.

"All the Lyme Regis wooden gigs have been built by award winning local boat builder Gail McGarva on Monmouth Beach and "Tempest" will be no exception.

"For this appeal, each part of the new wooden gig has been identified costed so there are some parts that everyone will be able to contribute to, from the keel at £500 to the rivets at four for a £1.

Lyme Regis Gig Club is inviting everyone who would like to help commission the building of "Tempest" by investing in the new build and being part of re-establishing a seafaring tradition that gives people a great way of having fun, learning through challenge, competing both now and long into the future."

The "Tempest Appeal" will be launched at The Cobb Centre (the first story offices on the building on The Cobb at 7.30pm on Friday. Anyone who would like to be part of building "Tempest" are invited. Plea for 'just and final closure' on the club for young people

Final statement from the Lyme Regis Youth Action Group

■ CONGRATULATIONS to the Young People of Lyme Regis and their supporters in winning £60,000 lottery funding from the ITV Jubilee People's Millions competition.

For more than two years we have tried to approach the trustees of the former Club For Young People with a view to firstly, saving the building from sale, and secondly, following its subsequent sale to the Lyme Regis Development Trust, finding a way for any sale monies to be directed to The Hub.

The Trustees namely Mr K. Meech, President; Mr D. Cozens, M.B.E. Chairman; Mrs A. Coussens, Hon Sec; Mr N. Pullinger, Treasurer, have chosen not to meet with us or representatives of the young people of Lyme Regis.

As far as we are able to ascertain, the funds held by these trustees are in excess of £60,000, being monies obtained by them on the sale of the building.

The trustees claim to have suspended their constitution. So, where are the audited accounts? And now when they are inviting applications for the funds, where are the new accounts? Isn't it a legal obligation for the trustees of any charity to make public the accounts?

Having failed to negotiate with the trustees, we now urge all groups in the town to apply for all of the funds remaining in the hands of those trustees so that there can be a just and final closure on this matter.

'Offensive' remark in expenses debate

■ I HAVE never read such an offensive, stereotypical remark as in the View From Lyme Regis (Wednesday, June 22nd - "Councillors vote for expenses").

The councillors argued that having expenses could encourage single parents to put up for council in the future.

What about unemployed people or people who are low paid? Are single parents the only ones in need of a few pounds? There are a lot easier ways of making money than joining the council.

I would hardly think £489 sufficient recompense for being a councillor, even if you weren't a single parent. If you are a single parent, that would not cover your childcare expenses whilst you were at meetings.

I would like to know which councillors were involved in this debacle as I need to know who not to vote for in future elections.

Rosie Dean, Church Street, Lyme Regis

Three Cups action 'well overdue'

IT IS now the two-year anniversary of the meeting I attended in June 2009 where people voted 235-0 for immediate compulsory purchase of the Three Cups Hotel, and the 21st anniversary of it being shut by Palmers.

I remember that evening the local MP said a timetable should be set for compulsory purchase. The council was requested to get this process underway.

Since then the council and Palmers have failed either to re-open the Three Cups Hotel or to see it compulsory purchased. The council had the powers to ensure it be re-opened by now. Together they've failed to make anything happen.

The Palmers' report on the hotel in 2009 talked of it being re-opened in time for the Olympics in 2012. How many Americans would love to rent the room where General Eisenhower briefed his officers just before D-Day? Who else would like to stay where Tolkien, Tennyson, Chaplin, Cagney, and Jane Austen visited and where scenes from the French Lieutenant's Woman were filmed?

It should be unnecessary for Palmers to consult the public again - they know Lyme wants and needs this fine hotel re-opened as a hotel. The time for action is well overdue.

Geoff Yaxley, Uplyme

We did it!

■ WHAT an extraordinary effort by all from beginning to winning. Lots of people have commented on what an incredible effort has been made.

We won the £60,000 Jubilee People's Millions for The Hub and that is amazing.

Lots of you have asked how many votes we had altogether; we will find out when every one counted.

I believe the key to our winning has been the willingness to work together and I am in no doubt that this partnership and good working practise between The Hub, partners, volunteers, young people and the town will go on to making it the place that we all dream of...busy, successful and full of opportunity.

For me this has all been about process, inclusiveness and enjoying the very small moments as well as the big ones.

Tahnkyounsoo very much to everybody who helped in whatever way. Young people tell me they are so excited by their new prospects and I'm sure they will tell you the same. The pictures speak for themselves.

The View did its bit ...

■ I JUST wanted to say thanks for all of the support that View From Lyme Regis gave to the Jubilee People's Millions Campaign for The Hub, which clinched the £60,000 prize money.

The extent of the coverage in your paper was fantastic and all the pictures of the most unlikely people putting their thumbs up was great.

I'm not sure how many votes the Lyme Project won but it was a lot as the Big Lottery Lyme phone line was jammed for a while in the evening and our website collapsed under the number of hits it received.

I'm certain that the high quality response was because so many local people were aware of the opportunity and committed to the project, which was in no small measure down to you.

Summer swing at charity ball fundraiser

SUMMER FUN: Guests enjoy the party atmosphere at the Cancer Research UK summer ball

BLACK tie and ballgowns were the order of the day for a charity ball held at Uplyme Village Hall.

The event was organised by the Lyme Regis Branch of Cancer Research UK and raised over £2,000 for the charity.

Guests were greeted with canapés and champagne cocktails and entertained by swing band The Wise Guys, local musician Billy Matthews and DJ Lee.

After a buffet supper supporters took part in an auction, conducted by Cliff Powley, which included a theatre break in London, a pair of Olympic tickets, Sunday lunch for four at the Mariners Hotel, dinner for two at Hix Oyster and Fish House and Christmas dinner for four at By The Bay restaurant.

Cancer Research UK branch chairman Philip Evans said: "We had a fantastic evening, the food was superb and the entertainment was brilliant."

"I'd like to thank all the committee members who worked so hard to arrange the evening, the guests who were generous in buying tickets, raffles and auction lots and all the local businesses and individuals who supported us by donating items."

Photographer Neil Bigwood recorded the evening on camera. His photos can be viewed and purchased at www.photoboxgallery.com/neilbigwood with all proceeds going to Cancer Research UK

LYME Regis Football Club celebrated a busy year of renovations at its annual dinner and presentation night on Saturday.

The event was held at the Davey Fort clubhouse for the first time in several years, following the opening of the extended function room, named the Creully Lounge, earlier in the year.

The Mayor of Lyme Regis, Councillor Sally Holman, attended the event with mayoress Jane Whittington and club President, Councillor Barbara Austin MBE.

Councillor Holman said she was sure the club would have a "successful future" with its new extended facilities and encouraged members to complete the changing room refurbishments before the new season in September.

Other speeches were made by long-serving Perry Street League referee Bob Hall and club chairman Howard Larcombe.

The dinner was organised by the club fundraising committee, led by the chairman's wife Heather Larcombe, and a buffet was provided by Steve Gardner of the Talbot Arms in Uplyme.

Vice-chairman Gerard Hitchcock was named Clubman of the Year for his effort in leading the renovations. Other awards were given to First Team Manager's Player of the Year, Dominic Rowe, and First Team Players' Player of the Year, Matt Laing.

Disco entertainment was provided by Simon Flux following the presentations.

Award winners were:

1st team - Player's Player of the Season (Robert Broome Memorial Trophy) Matt Laing; Manager's Player of the Season Dominic Rowe.

Reserves - Player's Player of the Season (Gordon Hall Memorial Trophy) Rob Larcombe; Manager's Player of the Season (Philip Evans Trophy) Wallace Blackmore.

Bantams - Player's Player of the Season Rob Greenwood; Manager's Player of the Season Luke Lawson.

Other Awards - Clubman of the Year (Jack Loveridge Memorial Trophy) Gerard Hitchcock; Young Player of the Season Harvey Brimicombe; Club Top Goalscorer (Brendan Cable Trophy) Julien Simier.

■ CLUBMAN OF THE YEAR: Gerard Hitchcock is awarded the Jack Loveridge Memorial Trophy for his work on the renovation and remodelling of the clubhouse

■ RESERVES Manager's Player: Wallace Blackmore with 1st team player's player Matt Laing

■ BOUQUET for Councillor Michaela Ellis in appreciation of her support during her term as mayor presented by Rob Greenwood

Tae Kwon Tom!

Throughout the spring and summer months View From Reporter TOM GLOVER is welcoming all challenges for this new column 'Take on Tom'. If your club, group or organisation would like to be the focus of this weekly column and could put Tom to the test then email him at tom@pemedial.co.uk or phone 01297 446154.

This week Tom joined the LYME REGIS TAE KWON DO CLUB for an evening training session.

AFTER weeks of dancing my challengers this time out decided to give me a break, and chose to try and beat me up instead.

I was in safe hands though, as I was joining international competitor, turned coach, Sharon Ward.

I did get a little worried when I arrived to see her with her arm in a sling but she reassured me that it would be good fun and I wouldn't be on the receiving end of anything too deadly.

I must say I did feel quietly confident, being a former child prodigy myself. I was once the proud owner of a yellow belt black tag - a level I reached after months of hardwork and dedication - six months to be precise, when I was 12.

I also still have a Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtle dressing up outfit. Donatello was my turtle of choice, and I have years of playground experience as the Red Power Ranger.

Only once before have the paths of my combat and dance careers ever come so close and that ended with disaster. As a child I chipped a bone in my foot whilst dancing to the theme tune to the ITV1 classic "Gladiators" and ended up on crutches for two weeks. So naturally I was hesitant.

I arrived early at the class in time to see the end of the junior session. Now with about 20 children, aged from four to 14, and an instructor with an arm in a sling you would probably forgive the class being a little shambolic.

Perhaps the odd child in a headlock, a girl tied up with a black belt or a younger pupil being used as punching pad.

That couldn't have been further from the truth. The older children were holding the kicking pads and helping the younger ones. Everyone was stood in line, listening intently and raring to go. And when the boundless energy seemed about to bubble over into chaos, Sharon just had to mention the words "press-ups" and everyone went silent.

The kids obviously love Sharon's classes and she must love teaching them as she travels all the way from Eastleigh, a three hour round trip, to run them every week.

The adult session started with a quick warm-up, which had me grabbing for my water bottle, and then we went straight into kicking practice.

Luckily for me we were using kicking pads rather than each other as our targets.

We started with straight kicks, six from the left and six from the right, before advancing the skills. After the straight kicks were out of the way we started on some combo work, then added axe kicks, before finally adding in some 360 kicks. My tree trunk legs, which felt such a burden during my pole dancing class, suddenly began to work to my advantage.

My main struggle was with the "Kiah", the shout you are meant to give when you strike an opponent.

I find it hard when kicking someone to shout at them as well, I'm much more inclined to give them an apologetic smile.

Perhaps I'm not quite aggressive enough to really excel, but after all, I'm a Glover not a fighter!

We finished the session by practising some flying side-kicks. Now whatever your beliefs you cannot deny that there is something inherently cool about a flying kick.

The majority of my primary school years were spent trying to perfect the perfect flying kick, either on my sister's teddies or, failing that, on my sister.

It was a great way to end the class and of all my challenges so far this was the most surprisingly enjoyable.

If I find myself feeling stressed after another deadline Tuesday you may well find me in Uplyme scout hut practising my flying kicks and my "Kiah" screams. I won't tell you whose image I project on to the kicking pads as there might not be a column next week!

The club train on Tuesday nights at Uplyme Scout Hut, 5pm to 6pm for children and 6pm to 7pm for adults. For more information visit www.lyme-tkd.co.uk or call Sharon on 07738383844

With over 80 different seafood dishes, cooked simultaneously each day, The Dorset Seafood Festival 2011 is set to become the largest seafood festival in the UK. It has the support of a raft of high profile sponsors, a brigade of celebrity chefs and a dramatic increase in stallholders. Champagne Pommery will once again take the position of title sponsor with Condor Ferries as a leading sponsor.

Offering a far reaching range of dishes from around the world the festival's menu will include; Goan-style fish Biryani with raita sauce, South West fish sushi, seafood pizza and Greek inspired scallops with Metaxa brandy. There will also be the old festival favourites of paella, scallop and chorizo skewers and homemade crab fishcakes.

Only four years old, The Dorset Seafood Festival is one of the highlights in Dorset's social calendar, attracting 50,000 visitors in 2010 and is set in Weymouth's beautiful, historical old working harbour.

This year's event will see some new faces in the celebrity chef line up including; Lesley Waters, Ed Baines, Shaun Rankin, Richard Bertinet, Sila Bjerrum, Alex Aitkin and James Weare. They will join seasoned Dorset Seafood Festival chefs - Mat Follas, John Wright and Giles Thompson. Mark Hix will also be judging the 2011 Young Dorset Seafood Masterchef competition on Sunday 10th July. The chef demonstrations will take place across two stages, against the backdrop of over 70 stalls, many selling a range of seafood dishes with a keen focus on sustainable fishing.

The Weird Fish Cross Harbour Swim will mark the start of the festival on Saturday 9th, 10.30am and the Olympic Inspire Mark Moving Tides procession will deliver a dramatic finale to the first day. Taking place at 5pm and winding its way through the festival stalls this fantastic, inventive and joyous procession is made and presented by children and young people around the theme of "Spirit of The Sea".

'We have made sure that all tastes are catered for this year and in doing so have produced THE most extensive seafood menu of any existing seafood festival we can find. We are therefore planning to record the event with a well known association to really celebrate its extensive culinary offering. Local Company Embracing Green Energy

BOTH 'Renewable Technologies' and 'Green Energy' are fast becoming major talking points. With the cost of utilities only set to rise and the need to become 'greener' more and more people are caring for the environment – as well as trying to save money! The Government are also set to announce further subsidies to domestic users to assist with new renewable heating system installations, in addition to the existing feed in tariff FIT's (applicable to Solar PV installs) and renewable heat incentives RHI's (applicable to solar thermal air/ground source heating).

One local company who are embracing green energies that are now readily available is A.P. Chant of Bridport.

Ashley Chant, MD of A.P. Chant says 'The renewable side to the business has been a natural progression for us. We have had to change with the times, as old forms of heating and energy use are becoming redundant. We are investing vast sums into it to ensure we are at the forefront of this new renewable revolution.'

A.P.Chant are currently developing a Renewable Energy Centre in Bridport. The Centre, opening in the Autumn, is going to be a state-of-the-art showroom demonstrating to customers and building industry professionals renewable solutions such as ground source heat pumps, air source heat pumps, solar PV, rainwater harvesting, energy efficient lighting and lots more. All of these will be fully operational and demonstrate exactly what renewable energy is, and how people can benefit from it.

Visit us at this year's Melplash Show on August 25th.

For more information contact A.P.Chant on 01308 420170 or visit <http://www.apchantrenewableenergy.co.uk>

Chris Rudge

CHRIS Rudge Renewable Power have expanded their range of green generation products to keep up with the ever increasing demands of their customers. As well as keeping Sharp, Sanyo, Kyocera and Sovello Solar PV modules as current stock at the Seaton offices, they have now expanded into the Solar Thermal area, offering packages for people looking for both technologies to be installed together.

New lower Solar PV installation costs for 2011 have proved to be popular, especially as this is last year the Feed in Tariff (FIT) will be at the current higher rate. From next April, the FIT will be going down by 7% a year for new installations. Anyone having an installation this year will benefit from the current index linked payment for the next 24 years.

Solar PV systems can now be fully installed from around £6200 for a 1.3kWp system up to £12,500 for a 3.7kWp.

Chris Rudge Renewable Power also specialise in self contained 'off grid' battery systems for anyone who do not have a mains grid connection. These systems are tailor made for each installation, from a remote shed to a complete house or business. For any electrical requirements you may have, call Chris Rudge Renewable Power on 01297 306114 or go to the website at www.chrisrudge.co.uk

The Mews

Among the many interesting watches at The MEWS, Dorchester is a 1971 Heuer Carrera cal.11 automatic chronograph watch on its original bracelet. This was one of Heuer's first automatic chronographs, it even has the winder on the left which advertising at the time stated you did not need to use the winder except to set the time.

Heuer watches throughout the 60s and 70s were synonymous with motor racing, being worn and used by Niki Lauda, Graham Hill, Jochen Rindt, Jackie Ickx, and of course Steve Mc-

Queen to name a few. The watches were even named after races: Silverstone, Montreal, Monaco, and Monza. With the current interest in historic racing and events like Goodwood Revival, the demand for a vintage watch to go with the outfit and the car has pushed the prices of these watches up. At a recent Bonhams auction of over 260 Heuer watches a 1972 Carrera similar to the above example made over £2,600.

Savers continue to suffer under low interest rates

With continuing low interest rates, many people who rely on their savings and investments to top up their income have continued to be disappointed with returns. Deposit based savings such as bank and building society accounts and cash ISA's offer a guarantee that your capital amount does not decrease but at what risk? What will the buying power of that money be and is your money devaluing every day that it remains there?

The most important consideration when looking and savings or investments of any kind is diversification, not having all your eggs in one basket and not only avoid holding all your monies in one account but also ensuring that you have a range of assets within your portfolio to ensure exposure to different areas as well as an element of stability though assets with underlying guarantees which can be achieved in a number of ways. The banks are under increasing pressure to make profits, so now more than ever is the time to ensure that you get advice based on what's best for you.

Keep your toilets clean! There's no excuse!

A few simple and proactive steps can make all the difference when cleaning your toilet. Many people and organisations (in non customer areas) neglect their toilets - possibly because it is seen as low priority and an unpleasant job. However cleaning your toilets on a regular basis can make all the difference.

Using Cistern blocks which can be less than £1.00 for two can be very effective in cleansing toilet bowls providing they are replenished on a weekly basis, although you could possibly get away with every two or three weeks.

Using toilet cleaner around the toilet bowl just once a day and scrubbing with the toilet brush will also make a big difference if in combination with the use of cistern blocks. You could also use toilet bowl cleaner in urinals like described above as well.

Another important thing to remember is to clean your toilet brush also. If you do not then it will soon become dirty and contaminated with germs, it will also collect dirty water which may well smell after time.

Sinks, mirrors, and, tiles, should not be neglected also. You don't necessarily need to do this every day but make sure that it is done enough to keep it consistently looking presentable for the people who may use your toilets. Remember if a important customer or visitor to your house or business was to see your toilet it would reflect you as an individual or business and could be to your detriment.

Love him or hate him...

MORRISSEY @ Plymouth Pavilions
Thursday, June 30th 2011

MORRISSEY and Marmite. What do they have in common? Well, as much as some members of last Thursday's audience might like to have spread Mozza on their toast and eaten him all up, the answer is the far more traditional adage - You either love it or you hate it.

But, as you'd expect, the huge majority of the Plymouth Pavilions crowd were bordering on the sycophantic, with just a few non-believers propping up the bar and the odd indifferent observer lurking at the back.

This was the penultimate date of a rather odd tour that has mainly played to towns in Scotland I've never heard of. With the exception of his appearance at Glasto, this was the biggest show by far in Morrissey's build-up to his headlining slot at the Hop Farm Festival over the weekend.

Moz was in fine form for a little less chatty than normal; a tad grumpy even. Messing up the intro to fan favourite 'Speedway' he swiftly instructed the band to move on to the next song rather than go for a second take. But a buzz remained in the air for the entire night, which kicked off with The Smiths' tune 'I Want The One I Can't Have'.

Although Morrissey has been getting stick from his former band's drummer via Twitter for 'covering' the band's tunes, he was undeterred, treating the crowd to a further five songs from the seminal outfit.

The title track from their 1985 album Meat Is Murder was one of the evening's highlights, with Mozza's latest band taking the song to an even darker place than the original, ending in a cacophony of percussion and overpowering visuals. Footage of cows and poultry being brutally slaughtered was projected on to the backdrop as the drummer let rip on a giant gong.

Previous Morrissey tours haven't been known for employing such effective use of accompanying visuals, which is strange seeing as Moza always took such tight control of The Smiths' art direction. But in the build-up to this evening's performance we're treated to an eclectic mix of video clips that are probably saved as favourites on Morrissey's YouTube account. Lou Reed being interviewed, New York Dolls in concert... it's all here.

And then the curtain falls, the pre-recorded drum solo from 'The Operation' pounds out, and we're met with our first backdrop star of the evening - Tony Franciosa in the 1962 Italian flick Senilità. It's just so Morrissey.

Mozza is again without record deal but has already ruled out releasing new material via the internet in a similar way to Radiohead. He's clearly got a batch of new songs raring to go though, playing two of the three unreleased tunes he premiered during a BBC radio session last month. These were met with a suitably enthusiastic reaction, so too the unexpected cover of 'Satellite Of Love'.

Whilst it has took artists like Paul Weller many years before they could re-embrace the songs of their youth (I went to many a Weller concert without even a hope of a tune from his days with The Jam), Morrissey has never been anything but proud of his former band's back catalogue.

It's no surprise then that he chooses to bookend his performance with songs made famous by The Smiths. Such is the response to the finale of 'This Charming Man' you'd be forgiven for thinking it's 1983 all over again. All that's missing is the gladioli!

Puppet show brings Cornish tale to life

THE popular children's book by Antonia Barber, The Mousehole Cat, will be brought to life at Bridport Arts Centre this weekend in a puppet show aimed at children from four years old to the very grown up!

Inspired by an old folk legend, the story tells of the Cornish fishing village of Mousehole where a storm has been raging for weeks.

Everyone is hungry as the boats cannot leave the harbour to fish so old Tom Bawcock the fisherman and his cat Mowzer set out to sea in their tiny boat, braving the fury of the Great Strom-Cat to try and save the village.

Despite a fearsome gale on the day before Christmas Eve, Tom saves the village from starvation, catching seven sorts of fish, enough for everyone to make and enjoy a life-saving, local delicacy - starry gazey pie.

This charming tale, still celebrated each year in the village of Mousehole, is brought to life by carved wooden puppets, coloured shadows, live music, song and a beautiful set.

This latest show from the Devon based company PuppetCraft promises to delight anyone over the age of four years and young at heart as it magically portrays Mousehole's folk legend and gives everyone a chance to celebrate singing the chorus of "starry-gazey pie"!

BAC general manager Dee Fenton said "The Mousehole Cat is a fantastic book and we're looking forward to a magical performance - it's the perfect way to spend a Sunday morning".

● SEE it at at Bridport Arts Centre on Sunday, July 10th at 11:30am. Tickets at £10 adult / £7 members / £6 children / £30 family can be booked by calling the box office on 01308 424204.

Poetry for Pleasure

by Frank McGarry

IN Peter Lacey's excellent new book 'Ebb & Flow - The Story of Maritime Lyme Regis' there is a chapter on the slave trade, which was abolished by Act of Parliament in 1807. Before the trade in human beings was banned, William Cowper had written a poem entitled 'Pity for Poor Africans' from which Peter quotes these opening lines.

*I own I am shocked at the purchase of slaves,
And fear those who buy them and sell them are knaves;
What I hear of their hardships, their tortures, and groans
Is almost enough to draw pity from stones.
I pity them greatly, but I must be mum,
For how could we do without sugar and rum?*

JUST like Wilberforce, Cowper's Christian morality made slavery abhorrent to him. To the great credit of this country the slave trade, and then slavery itself, were abolished - even though these measures were against our own economic interests. Reading this chapter in Ebb & Flow reminded me of my travels in the West Indies. One of the tiny Turks & Caicos Islands I visited is Salt Cay. Only a handful of people live there now but at one time it had a thriving cotton plantation operated by slaves. In the 1990s Natasha Durham, a little 11-year-old black girl from Trinidad, who was at school in the Turks & Caicos, went on a trip to Salt Cay and, in her mind's eye, she was transported back to those days of slavery. The upswell of emotion she felt at that point was the inspiration for the following poem.

OUR LAND IS OUR HOME

*Everything is silent,
Overcome by a hush,
The four walls loom before me
Amongst the dense and motionless brush.
Exposed like cracked bones - The walls
Some vine-covered, others bare,
Are compiled of local stone
Not much to lose, no more to spare.*

*The once great building,
Now many years old,
Holds the plantation's secrets,
Many which remain untold.
The entire holding is eerie
Quiet and still,
Nothing left but crumbling ruins,
Owners intended far from good will.*

*The occasional crack
Of a whip or two,
Followed by the distressed cries
Of a slave, or maybe a few.
It is filled with the bustle and noise
Of slaves being forced out and in,
Combined with the rhythmic Sounds of the gin.*

*Voices of weary slaves
Ringing through the air,
Trying to make the best of things,
For master's always near,
"O de cotton fields are white
And the reapers are but few,
If your finger isn't nimble
Sure you never will get through."*

*These memories are recalled
By wrinkled lips of old,*

*This is the way it used to be,
Or this was what I was told.
The rest of the story
Is hard to relate
The only way's to experience
The cruelty, the pain, the hate.*

*With the rise of the sun,
The coming of a new day,
Hopes of the 'morrow
Used to be taken away.
But the pain of our fore-fathers
Were not all in vain,
For we now have our freedom
And wisdom we gain.*

*Our land is our home,
The home is where we'll always be
So if we don't preserve it -
Our land, our culture, our heritage,
Our valuable treasures
Which are here to bring us joy and delight,
Will become worthless ruins.*

And Natasha wrote that at the age of eleven! My favourite Alexander Pope poem, Ode to Solitude, was written when he was only about twelve years old. Isn't it truly astonishing that works of such profundity can come from such young children?

Shanty set to return to the Marine this summer

SHANTY Theatre Company's growth in Lyme Regis is a successful local story in a national climate of funding crisis.

When Shanty Theatre Company first visited The Marine Theatre in the summer of 2008 with their production 'Smugglers', it was unclear whether the show would attract a big enough audience to make it financial possible.

The production was seen by 735 people over 15 shows during August 2008. This was hailed as a success, and Shanty was invited to return the following summer.

Four years later Shanty has developed a substantial following in the town. 2,559 people saw the company's 2010 production 'A Rat's Tale' during its 39 show run.

Following this success, the season will be expanded again this year, with a programmed run of 47 performances of their new play 'The Mysterious and Fantastical Wartime Tale of the Salty Socks of Dunkirk'.

There is also an extended programme of workshops, schools projects and community performances planned in the local area during the summer.

Enthusiasm for the company's work now reaches beyond Lyme Regis. Shanty's 2010 production was booked by the Weymouth and Portland Partnership to run during the Spirit of the Sea festival, and went on an extensive tour of the South West following its run in Lyme.

'The Salty Socks...' is also scheduled to tour theatres and village halls following its residency in Lyme, including five further Dorset appearances through Artsreach.

Co-artistic director Harry Long said: "With arts funding in crisis and theatre companies cutting their programmes in order to balance the books, we are very proud to be expanding our theatre work in Lyme Regis and continuing to increase the scope and quality of what we do there. The company first started in Lyme, and it is very important to us as an epicentre."

Shanty says of its new production 'The Mysterious and Fantastical Wartime Tale of the Salty Socks of Dunkirk'.

It's a story about a boy. And a boat. And some socks. Set at the beginning of World War II, in a Blighty dripping with Brylcreem and bunting, a young boy has the world at his feet. He can do anything. Climb any tree, win any race and face any challenge.

Until one day he finds his mother crying.

With Shanty's mix of mystery, mayhem and musical mirth, stories come to life, adventures become history and socks become legend.

● THE production opens at The Marine Theatre, Lyme Regis on July 27th and runs until September 4th.

There are performances at 7:30pm from Tuesday to Saturday, with 6pm performances on Sundays and matinees at 4pm on Wednesdays and Saturdays.

The production is supported by the National Lottery through Arts Council England, and West Dorset District Council.

Hemstock festival bigger and better than ever

FOLLOWING the success of Hemstock '07, the team are back, aiming to make Hemstock bigger and better on September 17th.

This festival set on private land within the stunning rolling hills and lush countryside of Dorset is about providing the very best in new, progressive music, local delicacies, comedy and literature.

Hemstock is a non-profit organisation with all proceeds raised going to support Prostate Cancer Research and Mondo Challenge (a charity which focuses on providing schools and educative grants to remote areas of India).

From midday organisers intend to cook up a musical storm on the main stage by fusing eclectic flavours from Electro Swing, Jazz, Hip-Hop, Rock n Roll, Blues, Folk, Roots and Reggae.

As well as musicians and tents there will be stand up comedy, recitals from well known poets and authors infused with scrumptious local foods and cider.

All this take us right up to the grand finale, the headline act, followed by an outstanding fireworks display over the festival site.

This year's headliners are The Correspondents - Mr Bruce and

Resuscitating sampled relics with squelchy synths over dusty drum loops they've depicted the trials and errors of Love, Lust and Loss over a foot-tapping toe curling amalgamation of Electro, Drum 'n' Bass, Swing and Boogie Woogie.

Starting out in November 2007, old friends Mr Bruce and Chucks, returned to London after a firm schooling at their respective Universities.

In Leeds, Mr Chuckles had been tinkering with the sounds of Hip Hop, Jazz and Dance music for several years, meanwhile further north in Edinburgh Mr Bruce exerted his vocal dexterity over Drum 'n' Bass, Breaks & Funk.

The unlikely pair cut their teeth at a few parties and decided to cement the live performance relationship in their makeshift recording studio. Since then tracks have been recorded, stages have been stomped and knees have hit nipples.

After their set the party will continue, with DJs dropping some of the most cutting edge sounds around.

Villages join seafood celebration

DURING July The Heritage, Restaurant and Rooms, set in the heart of Chickerell, is offering a delicious range of seafood.

Anne (Owner and Head Chef) said: "90 per cent of our fish served is sourced in local coastal waters."

"It is delivered daily ice-packed from local supplier Samways of Bridport. We are proud of its freshness, quality and provenance. We believe in keeping our fish dishes simple – let the fish flavours show themselves."

The Heritage regularly introduces guests to new fish, giving them the opportunity to try different species rather than those commonly on menus.

In July and during the Dorset Seafood Festival weekend the Heritage is offering a two-course dinner for £22.50 per person and three-course dinner for £27.95 per person PLUS with every booking with all guests having three courses, a complimentary bottle of house wine – and if that isn't enough of an incentive guests who are "hooked on the Heritage" will receive 20 per cent off their next restaurant dinner reservation (subject to terms and condition valid 1st – 31 July 2011).

Anne will also be taking part in the cross harbour swim!

The "sole" Dinner Menu from Monday, July 4th – Sunday, July 10th will include (subject to availability):

- Lyme Bay hand-dived king scallops on black pudding with bitter orange dressing;

- Lime-infused grilled Cornish butterflied sardines on warm new potato salad with grain mustard;

- Classic Caesar salad featuring anchovies, parmesan, croutons and romaine lettuce only – no chicken, no bacon, no...!

- West Bay-smoked had-dock chowder;

- Grilled Cornish hake with a Dorset Blue Vinny cream sauce;

- Fillet of monkfish tail wrapped in cured ham, drizzled with sweet pepper coulis;

- For non-fish eaters there will be steak and vegetarian options on offer.

Head Chef Anne cooks to AA rosette standards and takes a pride in sourcing locally and seasonally, while husband John heads up the front of house operation, with a special interest in wines and malt whiskies!

For more information please call Anne or John Grove on 01305 783093.

AS A self-confessed fan of musical theatre, I suppose you could say We Will Rock You is my guilty pleasure show, writes LISA BRIGHT.

I have seen it twice before, once in the West End and once on national tour in Bristol. Both times I have thoroughly enjoyed it. If nothing else, and I think we can all agree, the music is just fantastic.

So, when I heard my old school was putting on the show, I was first to put my hand up and volunteer to review their performance, taking my mum, who is also a huge fan, along with me.

Set 300 years in the future in a dystopian world where individual thoughts are suppressed, rock music is banned and manufactured pop rules the airwaves, We Will Rock You tells the story of dreamer Galileo (Luke Street) and his quest to fulfil a prophecy to restore rock and roll.

The story is set on planet Mall, ruled by the Global Soft Corporation and Killer Queen (Celia Cruwys-Finnigan), where all Ga Ga kids are subjected to the same computer generated music and have no original thoughts or ideas.

But Galileo knows he is different. He dreams of gibberish lyrics from music long since lost and decides to break free, where he meets kindred spirit Scaramouche (Laura Addy).

Together they flee the clutches of Killer Queen and her trusty stooge Kashoggi (Georgia Robson).

They stumble across other outcasts from society, Bohemians who cling on last the remaining links of "real music".

Their leaders Meat (Amy Street) and Britney (Ollie Harris) believe Galileo is "the one", the dreamer who will fulfil the prophecy to find the long lost instruments, restore rock and roll and destroy Global Soft.

While a raid at "The Heartbreak Hotel" sees the Bohemians captured and tortured, leaving them brain dead, Galileo and Scaramouche make their escape before finding their friends drowning their sorrows at the Seven Seas of Rhye.

There they meet Pop (Harry Robson) who explains the prophecy "that a bright shining star will lead them to the place of living rock".

They discover a gold shining statue of Freddie Mercury that points to Wembley Stadium, home of rock music, and it is there that they find the hidden instruments and bring the long forgotten rock and roll music back to life.

So how did Woodroffe's version compare to my West End experience? Well, I have to be honest – it was easily just as good and enjoyable to watch and I must say, some of Woodroffe's bright young stars could give the West End professionals a run for their money.

One in particular is Luke Street. And he is definitely one to watch for the future.

At 18-years-old, Luke is about to leave Woodroffe and start a three-year musical theatre diploma at the Performance Preparation Academy in Guildford.

He is an incredibly talented singer. I was blown away by his will be even bigger and better and raise even more money for charity."

Battens are encouraging all local businesses to get involved and enjoy an evening of networking, fun and fundraising on the beach. No volleyball skill is required so if you would like to take part or want to find out more please go to www.battens.co.uk/volleyball2011 ability to belt out the big notes (a talent I'm sure he has inherited from his dad) and hold them right to the end.

As a fan of the show, I will confess I have the soundtrack in my car, and I can honestly say both Luke and his leading lady Laura Addy were spot on with their vocals, so much so my mum was convinced they were miming to the soundtrack at the start of the show! No, they were just that good.

But, while the two leading stars shone, they were ably assisted by the supporting cast, who were equally talented.

The Streets are clearly a talented family. Luke's sister Amy played bohemian Meat with vivacity, capturing the free spirit of her character with ease. Her counterpart Ollie too played Britney with energy, bringing the stage to life along with the rest of the bohemians.

The fierce Killer Queen was perfectly portrayed by Celia Cruwys-Finnigan who owned the stage with her rendition of 'Another One Bites the Dust', a dance number, which was well choreographed and executed with sass and sophistication.

Other musical numbers that stood out for me were Laura and Luke's duet 'Who Wants to Live Forever' and the finale 'Bohemian Rhapsody', which was met with a rapturous applause and a well-deserved standing ovation.

I think credit should also go to the costume department and hair and make up team, who clearly revelled in this task, which allowed their imaginations to run wild, providing excellent results. And also to the band, who did an outstanding job.

All in all, it was a fantastic show.

Brewery tour

Visit Palmer's - the oldest thatched brewery in the UK

We welcome visitors to our Brewery from Easter to September. The fascinating guided tour starts at 11 am on every weekday and lasts for about two hours. These specialist tours are very popular and we do advise you to pre-book. The charge we make enables you to see every stage of the centuries-old brewing process. We'll also offer you a glass or two of Palmer's ale or a soft drink, and you will also be presented with a commemorative glass tankard. You can book at Palmer's Wine Store, next to the Brewery in Bridport, by calling 01305 427500 or online at www.palmerbrewery.com

HOWZAT! - The West Dorset cricket scene

WITH STUART BROOM

Ninth wicket stand sees Dorchester home

DORSET FUNERAL PLAN LEAGUE

Premier League

STALBRIDGE 160 ALL OUT LOST TO DORCHESTER 161-9 BY ONE WICKET
IT took some calm and inspired batting from James Dunham (14 not out) and Stuart Voss (19 not out) to steer Dorchester to victory for the second time this season.

Having beaten the Stalbridge by just one run in the reverse fixture, the county town were tottering on the edge of defeat at 137-9 when Voss, a late call-up for the missing Nick Roe, joined Dunham at the crease needing 24 for victory.

However they batted sensibly and with Voss's second boundary drew level before a wide from Rob Burfitt sealed the win.

With a strong batting line-up Stalbridge elected to bat but Rob Morley (3-28) made a mockery of that by bowling Luke Webb in his first over and skipper Stuart Sweatman and Oli Calcott to leave the hosts 29-3.

Dan Belt (4-35) and Adam Rendell (2-32) employing a fuller length to induce the drive and letting the ball do the work with late swing, then ripped out the middle order with four wickets for three runs. In trouble at 72-7, Knight (36 not out) and Steve Forshaw (17) in a last wicket stand of 53 managed to raise the total to 160 all out with Rob Waite (1-13) claiming the last wicket.

Dave Maslen (20) started the reply brightly but Forshaw (4-35) then rushed through the Dorchester top order to leave them on 42-4. Rendell (11) and Andy Mead (13) followed them back to the pavilion before Chris Backhouse and skipper Martyn Richards stemmed the flow with a stand of 40 with Richards having been dropped by Andy Dyke (3-43) off his own bowling, then hit the veteran spinner for two huge sixes before succumbing attempting another big hit when he was caught by Webb off Ed Clements (1-13), amusingly the ages of both players combined being less than that of the 31 year old skipper.

When Phil Morley (13) went it was left to Dunham and Voss to guide Dorchester home.

Richards said: "At times we are playing wonderful cricket, but for periods we have been woeful at best and consider ourselves very fortunate to be in the league position of third. So far individuals have stepped up when we needed them, but we need some big knocks from our top order to maintain our position."

POOLE TOWN 197-4 BEAT WEYMOUTH 196-9 BY SIX WICKETS

THIS game was closer than the score suggests with title-chasing Poole Town getting home with just over two overs to spare against a very young Weymouth side.

Tom England (24) and Dean Janaway (62) put on 91 for the first wicket before both and Will McKay were dismissed in quick succession to leave them 93-3.

However captain Paul Payne (19) and Jonny Armfield (40) recovered the situation with a stand of 55, but Payne's dismissal heralded the start of a gradual decline and with Masoor Khan claiming 3-7 from two overs, Weymouth finally stuttered to 196-9.

Matt Lawes (1-36) made an early breakthrough but a half century from Khan and support from Richard Armstrong (36) appeared to tip it Poole's way despite a superb piece of bowling from James Almond who despite not picking up a wicket against some of the best players in the county showed that he has a great future.

Despite the increased pressure from Weymouth in the field, Badrul Alam (42no) and Kristian Wilson (27no) saw the hosts home.

Division One

WEYMOUTH 2ND 225 ALL OUT

LOST TO BOURNEMOUTH 251-8 BY 26 RUNS

WEYMOUTH 2nds just failed to beat Bournemouth after a rollercoaster match.

Bournemouth got off to a great start but after John Ryan (2-30) and Sean Fitzgerald (2-34) had pegged them back in the middle of their innings conceding just 64 from their combined 20 overs, the visitors smashed 80 off the last 10 overs to set a challenging total, with three of their batsmen scoring half centuries.

Weymouth got off to a poor start and were 9-2 off four overs, Jim Ryall being particularly unlucky when a ball bounced off his foot and rolled on to his stumps.

However Cameron Armfield (30) and Andy Jarvis (60) produced a good third wicket stand in excess of 80 which was continued by Fitzgerald (24) and Michael Pearce (26) to put Weymouth back in with a chance and although the tail battled hard they fell one short of three additional points for getting with ten per cent of Bournemouth's total.

Fitzgerald said: "They made a good start before John and I pegged them back in the middle, but then they scored heavily at the end of their innings."

Unfortunately we lost crucial wickets at crucial times and had to keep rebuilding."

Division Two

BEAMINSTER 230-7 BEAT

FERNDOWN WAYFARERS 2ND 114 ALL OUT BY 116 RUNS

ANOTHER impressive batting display from Fred Everitt and a good overall team performance saw Beaminster win the battle of the basement boys and leapfrog Ferndown Wayfarers 2nds with this comprehensive win.

Winning the toss home skipper Ross Baker had no hesitation in batting on a hard surface in sweltering heat, and despite losing Richard Rundayard to a brilliant catch in the gully early on, Fred Everitt who continued his fine start to the season with some elegant strokes, shared in an excellent second wicket partnership with Nick David. The pair put on 121 before David was bowled for 48.

Will Everitt and Ross Baker were both out in quick succession as Beaminster tried to accelerate the run rate before Fred Everitt was then dismissed for a well made 55, leaving Beaminster on 151-5.

The middle order however played positively to increase the run rate with a quickfire 15 from Russell Hurford before Simon Jones (33 not out) and Colin Lloyd (22) produced some good shots to ensure that Beaminster closed on an imposing 230-7 off 45 overs.

In reply, Baker and Murray Legg bowled aggressively and backed up by some excellent catches and fielding, Beaminster took control of the match.

Both bowled their full allocation of 12 overs with Baker finishing his spell with 4-42 and Legg 3-50, allowing spinner Mark Barber to mop up the tail with 2-9 off 2.2 overs, as Ferndown were dismissed for 114 in the 30th over.

DORCHESTER 2ND 163-8 LOST TO

CRANBORNE 164-2 BY EIGHT WICKETS

FOR the second week running Dorchester 2nds lost to fellow promotion hopefuls, this time going down by eight wickets to Cranborne.

Division Three

COMPTON HOUSE 250-9 BEAT BRIDPORT 167 ALL OUT BY 83 RUNS

BRIDPORT captain Mark Smith was much happier with his sides performance this week despite losing to a Compton House side who were pegged back after making a great start.

Millard (61) and Wildbur (52) made a tremendous start for the North Dorset side before Dom Gape took a catch in the deep to dismiss the former off Sam Good (1-77) who had been the recipient of much of their hostility.

Smith then took a stunning catch off Liam Toohill (1-33) to remove Wildbur and although Dunning (71) continued to torment the visiting bowlers, wickets began to fall at regular intervals with Wes Lewis producing a superb spell taking 6-24 off seven overs with Ash Nicholls (1-29) the other wicket taker.

With Smith having been injured making the catch, he had to change the batting order but after Toohill went for two, Gape (27) and Tom Hayball (21) made good contributions. A mid-order collapse the Good brothers Will (21) and Sam (43) ensured Bridport picked up more batting points before the innings closed on 167 all out.

Smith said: "If we continue to show a positive attitude as the team did this week, I am sure we can start winning again. Whilst their openers got off to a flying start, I have to say luck is just not on our side at all."

"The opening bowlers performed pretty well with nothing going our way. They were very aerial with their shots and everything dropped in the gaps."

"The batting was much better this week and we looked more confident. Overall I was disappointing to lose but pleased and encouraged for next week home against Cattistock, which sees the return of Dave Herbert from Dorchester to help us in the fight against relegation."

CATTISTOCK 172 ALL OUT LOST TO STALBRIDGE 2ND 251-5 BY 79 RUNS

AFTER a recent good run, this was a poor performance by Cattistock with both bat and ball.

Stalbridge's innings was led by Mark Chant who hit 104 in very quick time including 19 4s and one six, and with Ian Lomas-Walker hitting four 6s in his 50 not out sharing a breezy unbeaten eight wicket stand of 81 with John Sullivan (30 not out) they posted a formidable 251-5. Joe Baggs (2-59) was the best of the home bowlers.

In reply only Colin Mullins (40) helped by Martin Langford (21) resisted the Stalbridge attack led by Sullivan (2-22) and at 134-9 it was only a 38 run last wicket stand between Buddy Langford and Richard Fagence (20 not out) that gave the score more credence.

SHILLINGSTONE 178-2 BEAT MARTINSTOWN 177-9 BY EIGHT WICKETS
MARTINSTOWN lost their top of the table clash with Shillingstone and drop back to third place. Set 178 to win, the North Dorset side won comfortably by eight wickets.

Division Four

WINTON 2ND 212-8 BEAT BEAMINSTER 2ND 134 ALL OUT BY 78 RUNS
BEAMINSTER 2nds travelled to promotion hopefuls Winton 2nds after a three week absence and it took a while for their bowlers to get their eye in as the hosts raced to 56-0 after just eight overs.

However they finally started to get the ball in the right place and, aided by some good fielding including a great run out by Josh Singleton, restricted Winton to 212-8 after 45 overs, with Adie Phillips (3-44) and Nick Hollely (2-51) the pick of the bowlers with a wicket each for Josh and Joe Singleton.

The wicket started to break up when Beaminster replied and in the face of some good Winton bowling they were soon struggling at 71-7 after 24 overs.

However the tail showed some character adding 61 runs for the last three wickets with Hugh Rathbone (21) and Adie Phillips (12) both batting well before a last wicket partnership of 30 between Nick Hollely (20) and Stu Lindsay (13) got Beaminster up to 134 all out.

WEYMOUTH 3RD 136 ALL OUT

BEAT CHILD OKEFORD 69 ALL OUT BY 67 RUNS

WEYMOUTH 3rds secured an excellent win over high riding Child Okeford with a brilliant bowling performance by Ryan Sers who skittled out the visitors for just 69.

Cruising at 103-4 mainly through captain Craig Johnson (30), Toby Mason (20) and Ben Doidge (16), Weymouth collapsed and only a late flurry from Callum Guest and Al Sterling who scored 13 apiece got them to 136 all out.

Sers cut through the opposition taking an amazing 6-17 from seven overs to earn his side a win that sees then move up one spot to third bottom.

Division Five

CORFE MULLEN 2ND 92 ALL OUT

LOST TO DORCHESTER 3RD 221-8 BY 129 RUNS

A NINETY NINE run seventh wicket partnership between Cameran Lucas, celebrating his 18th birthday, and 15-year-old Sam Roles sealed an unexpected victory for Dorchester 3rds.

Winning the toss and on the hottest Saturday so far this season, Dorchester were soon in trouble and an early finish looked on the cards as Corfe Mullen's captain Mat Wood (4-43) and his fellow opening bowler Tom Vaughan (3-32) ripped apart Dorchester's top order batsmen leaving them reeling on 46-6.

However, Lucas and Roles had other ideas and decided the best form of defence was attack and with a very fast outfield they soon started to build a match winning partnership to rescue the Dorchester innings. One run short of the hundred partnership Roles was unfortunately run out for 39 in an intelligent 26 ball innings.

Lucas's second 50 of the season came in only 46 balls but he was eventually well caught at gully by the diving Khasau for 67 including nine 4s and a six.

A cameo partnership of 47 from 17 year-old Dominic Royle (17) and debutant 16 year-old Karl Malone (16) pushed the score to an impressive 221-8.

The Corfe Mullen innings started brightly but Dorchester bowlers regularly picked up wickets from their straight bowling and some brilliant catching.

Only opening bat Peter Phillips (33) showed any resistance with no other batsmen reaching double figures, before he was brilliantly caught and bowled by a diving Roles.

The other highlight of the fielding display was another superb acrobatic catch from Jamie Quinten at gully, which gave Malone his first senior wicket. The wickets were evenly shared out with Dominic Royle (2-18), Sam Roles (3-18) and the returning Nick Beer (2-9).

Captain Pete Tucker said "Cameran and Sam batted brilliantly. It was definitely the best innings that I have seen both of them construct but it was Cameran's maturity, on his birthday, and shot selection which stood out."

"Sam turned in a fine display with bat and ball and at 15 looks a very good prospect for the future."

Division Six

ABBOTSBURY 216-6 LOST TO BROADSTONE 4TH 219-9

BY ONE WICKET.

ABBOTSBURY's winning run was brought to a halt in an exciting last-over defeat.

The home side's openers got them off to a very good start with in-form Nick Wardlaw's magnificent 116 ably supported by skipper Simon Pengelly with 32. Chai Sanapala and Gary Pittman also made useful contributions as the Swans posted a challenging score.

Grafton Straker (3-32) was again among the wickets when Broadstone replied with their batsmen riding their luck at times. Three dropped catches also kept them in the hunt and when T Lanham's careful 66 was backed up by G Wareham's belligerent 42, four runs were needed off the last over.

Ryan Beesley's direct hit to run out Thoen took the game to the wire but Broadstone's last man was able to strike the winning boundary with just two balls to spare.

Despite the defeat Abbotbury's Robin Potter summed up the day: "This was an excellent day's cricket played on a beautiful ground in glorious sunshine throughout; a wonderful Abbotbury day, except, of course, for the final result!"

BRIDPORT 2ND 140-8 BEAT

WEYMOUTH LONGSHOTS 136 ALL OUT BY TWO WICKETS

BRIDPORT 2nds as expected beat bottom side Weymouth Longshots by two wickets.

Rod Gay grabbed top honours taking 5-31 as the home side dismissed the basement boys for 136 all out.

In reply there was a middle order collapse, but Bridport took the victory thanks to Wes Lewis (31), Rob Condliffe (25) and captain Jamie Dolman (17).

Division Seven

CREWKERNE 124-3 BEAT

CERNE VALLEY 2ND 123 ALL OUT BY SEVEN WICKETS

ROBBIE James put Crewkerne on the road to victory by claiming 5-41 to dismiss Cerne Valley for 123 all out with Francis Medley weighing in with 2-25.

Phillip Palfrey (24) got Crewkerne off to a good reply, but it was the arrival of Jon Gould and number four that won them the game with four 4s and five 6s in his undefeated 54 not out.

MARTINSTOWN 2ND 146 ALL OUT

LOST TO SHILLINGSTONE 2ND 147-7 BY THREE WICKETS

AN unbroken half-century eighth wicket partnership between Harry Pauley (23 not out) and Leo Williams (21 not out) saw Shillingstone to victory after the home side had reduced them to 94-7.

Captain Tom Bracey was the backbone of the Martinstown total with 44, supported by Bernard Grossmith (18), Jack James (14) and Alex Skidmore (20).

Despite some tight bowling by Mike Clarke (2-18) off nine overs, Shillingstone's Mike Webber (27) held the innings together until Pauley and Williams took them to victory.

Sunday Division Four

SYMENE 173 ALL OUT BEAT CHARLTON DOWN 104 ALL OUT BY 68 RUNS

SYMENE got out of jail on Sunday when after being reduced to 14-5 against Charlton Down, they managed to reach 173 all out thanks to a fine ninth wicket stand of 68 between Luke King (48) and skipper Graham Bartlett (23).

After Liam Toohill had taken 10 off Kim Park's first over, the Charlton Down bowler got his revenge by dismissing four of the first five Symene batsmen and with James Pretty also grabbing one, had the Symondsbury based outfit 14-5 after just four overs.

With 10 overs gone Symene had struggled to 29-5 with Park (4-22) and Pretty (1-2) well in control.

However with both being removed from the attack, Richard Keech (36) and Nick Skyrme (11) started rebuilding the situation with a stand of 60 before both went within a couple of balls to leave them 74-7, but King and Bartlett helped swell the total to 173 all out.

Park finished with 5-54 and Pretty 2-22 with Ben Gollege 2-23.

Charlton Down also made a poor start with Pretty and Nick Roe victims of Bartlett and Colin Willcox to leave them 9-2. They continued to lose wickets at regular intervals with only Gollege (20), Adam Jones (24) and Ian Doyle (18) showing any real resistance and they were finally all out for 104.

The wickets were shared around between Bartlett (3-25), Ed Halson (3-24) including two in two balls, Willcox (2-17) and Toohill (2-29).

Division One

BROADWINDSOR 160 ALL OUT LOST TO ILCHESTER 169 ALL OUT

DESPITE an excellent bowling performance by skipper Ade Phillips, Broadwindsor fell nine runs short against Ilchester in a match that was even Stephen for most of the way.

The visitors, winning the toss decide to bat, and were indebted to opener R Pickford who carried his bat for a solid 85 not out.

Phillips kept his opponents on their toes with a brilliant display of bowling by taking 5-23 off eight overs, whilst young Jack Walklett supported him well with 3-33 from his eight.

Joe Hawkins continued his good form with another excellent 46 and he was supported by Dean Hyett (23), Ian Johnson (20) and Rob Meech (20), but Broadwindsor just couldn't get enough.

LYME REGIS BOWLS

Rain fails to dampen spirits

LYME Regis Bowling Club's 54th Open Tournament came to a successful conclusion on Friday 24th June despite unusually inclement weather, particularly early in the week.

All started well on Saturday 18th June with the first wood bowled by Mayor Sally Holman in pleasant sunshine. However, her bowl had hardly come to rest before the clouds started to gather, the wind came in from the sea and the rain started to fall.

That was how it was to be for the rest of the week, with many matches played in sporadic showers, chilly winds and very occasional sun. Hardly June weather and so different from last year's heat wave.

On Monday play had to be suspended at 5.30 pm. due to heavy rain and the possibility of damage to the playing surface.

Games on Tuesday were shortened and re-timed so that by Wednesday all was back on schedule.

The weather may have dampened the green and the spectators, but not the competitive spirit of those taking part. Often in poor conditions, when wet weather gear was the order of the day, the Singles, Pairs and Triples events produced some exciting and closely fought action between players of all ages, the youngest being Brandon King at just 10 years old.

Bowlers from numerous parts of the country took part, all hoping to reach the finals on Friday 24th.

Finals day started with the Triples, the winners being Mary Adams, Reg Tibbles and Eddie Kavanagh, a trio from Leamington Spa and Tewkesbury. Lyme Regis' own Steve and Paul Pomeroy orchestrated a comfortable win in the Pairs.

The Men's final was won by last year's runner-up, Roger Woolland from Seaton.

The Ladies' singles was an all Bridgwater affair with Nova Edwards adding another victory to her previous wins in 2008 and 2009 thus deservng her little known nickname of Super Nova.

Following the finals, the prize presentations were made by Mrs Jane Bremner of Wood Farm Caravan Park, the major sponsor of the tournament.

Despite the difficult conditions there had been excellent bowling throughout the week, especially in the finals.

The tournament was a great success if somewhat hampered by the conditions. This only emphasised the obvious hard work put in by the organizers and members of the Lyme Regis Bowling Club to keep their wits and the tournament, dare we say, afloat.

◆AFTER all the excitement of last week's Annual Tournament had died down, the Club has had to get back to league duties writes Paul Moffitt.

The ladies actually had a free week but all three mens teams were in action, most with reasonable success.

The Championship side and 'B' side both managed eight points but, alas, the 'A' team is still struggling to find decent form with just three points.

Just a couple of friendlies this week in both of which Lyme came out on top.

RESULTS:

DORSET MEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP:

Lyme Regis won by two shots over league front-runners Wellworthy. J Eaton, S Pomeroy, B Rattenbury, P Pomeroy won by three shots; B Gillett, E Skeemer, P Eagles, D Meylan won by three shots; R Richardson, L Street, T Allman, C Barber lost bt 4 shots.

Cricket candles

UPLYME & Lyme Regis Cricket Club are organising a special King George Candles event in partnership with 'Candles on the Cobb'; the Lyme Regis-based charity which raises money for youth and other local causes.

The event scheduled for Sunday, September 4th will be a 40 over cricket game starting at 1pm followed, at 8pm, by the lighting of over 2000 candles around the cricket ground.

The Candle on the Cobb Committee has agreed that the candles will be "sold" on behalf of the Sam Nunn appeal.

Sam is an Uplyme youngster, who has been fighting a rare form of cancer for three years. The money raised will go towards payment for a six month course of treatment in a German clinic, the only place where this treatment is available. People are encouraged to buy a candle "to remember somebody".

Candle Certificates are currently available for sale at: Along Came Polly, Nags Head, Paul's Barber Shop, Rock Point Inn, Talbot Arms, Travis-Perkins, Town Mill Cheesemonger and Uplyme Village Stores.

DISABLED CRICKET

Stephen is County Player of the Year

STEPHEN Wiltshire from Bridport topped a great year's cricket by being voted Dorset Disabled Cricket Team Player of the Year 2010.

Stephen received his award from the club's president Les Phillips MBE during the tea interval at the recent match against Somerset held at Dorchester Rec. In their latest game on Sunday Dorset lost to Hampshire at Winchester in a 40 over match.

Battling first Dorset scored 104-2 with Dorchester's Callum Tucker scoring 42 not out, supported by 39 from Stephen Wiltshire. Hampshire reached their target also for the loss of two wickets.

Powerstock continue their good start

THE Powerstock Junior Cricket Club Under 13s have continued their good start to the season with two recent wins in the West Dorset Cricket League with away victories at Martinstown and Puddletown (see tables on page 79).

In a low scoring game against Martinstown, Toby Hibbs was the star taking four wickets.

Against Puddletown the visitors batted first scoring 163-2 with Ollie Lee, Billy Browning and Rory Gillis all retiring after reaching 25 and Ryan White (16) and Bradley Mullins (19 not out) also contributing good runs.

In reply Gillis destroyed Puddletown with 6-18 as the host were dismissed for 57 all out.

Nine-year-old Warriors impress in Junior League

WEST Dorset Warriors nine-year-olds were the stars of this year's Junior League

Competing in the event for the first time, they performed out of their skins to win 15 of their 36 races over the three rounds; only once being placed outside the top three. They contributed to over half of the Warriors victories in this year's competition in particular showing consistency in winning the team relays.

The boys relay team consisting of George Kelman-Johns, Alex Felton, George Maslen and Jack Hayward (replaced by Peter Archer in round two) won all three rounds of the medley relay including a closely fought final round against Yeovil where George Maslen was able to hold off a late challenge from the Yeovil swimmer in the final freestyle leg.

They were also victorious in the freestyle relay at Bridport, coming second in the two other rounds. In the individual races Felton twice won the 25m butterfly and 25m freestyle with his team mate Kelman-Johns winning the 25m breaststroke twice as well as the 25m backstroke.

For the girls, Erin Lee won the 25m backstroke in the first round, and was joined in the relay team by Erin Gowers, Olivia Cregg and Minnie Foice (replaced through injury by Poppy Elliman in round three) where they twice won the medley relay followed up with a win in the freestyle relay.

The Warriors performed exceptionally well in the league; winning the first round at Bridport followed by a third place at Weston Super Mare, and finishing with fourth at Littledown, Bournemouth in what proved to be a hard fought final round.

Competition is of a high standard in Junior League where each year club swimmers between the ages of nine and 12 swim against each other on three occasions over three months.

The performance of the nine-year-old swimmers show great promise for the Warriors in future years; with other young swimmers of differing ages also coming through to strengthen the squad.

In the 10-year-olds there were good performances from Ciara Bowes, in her second year of competition, who led the way in the first round by winning 50m freestyle at Bridport, Lauren O'Toole and Alex Cocker swimming in the age group for the first time.

Scout Macpherson was as reliable as ever swimming for the eleven-year-olds where she confidently won the 50m Backstroke in rounds one and three, unfortunately not being able to swim in the second round.

Seasoned campaigner and Western Counties Swimmer Charlie Hitchcock continued to provide a valuable contribution to the team effort, winning both the 12-year-old 50m butterfly and breaststroke in the first two rounds of the competition, ably supported by Hugh Ireland who won the 50m freestyle at Bridport.

Arguably the best performance of the competition was by 11-year-old James McKendry in round two when he won the 50m Breaststroke with great confidence.

Over the three rounds of the competition the Warriors achieved a total of 103 new personal best times, 42 of them in the strongly contested third round where they beat local rivals South Dorset Tornados to finish above them in the final league table.

◆ GREAT SEASON: The West Dorset Warriors team who had a successful Junior League competition.

Sweeney breaks leg in bad day at office for Buckler

Sweeney is in the form of his life, currently rated amongst the top strike jockeys in the country with seven wins from 21 races, but the injury, a crack in his left tibia looks to have sidelined him for the summer months at best.

The incident happened in the Newtonabbotrace On Twitter Handicap Chase over 3¼ miles in which both Ethiopia ridden by Sweeney and Cullahill with Daryl Jacob on board were both involved.

Ethiopia was running well at the head of the 15 horse field when Sweeney was unseated after landing over the water jump, and although most horses avoided him he was kicked as the field passed.

Initially it was thought that he only had a gash to the inside of his left leg, but later x-rays at Torbay Hospital showed the crack.

Unfortunately it would appear the race was one too fat for Cullahill after his recent good run, and he never really featured, and was eventually pulled up three from home. He will now go on his summer holidays. Ethiopia returned unharmed.

The result was an obvious disappointment for the whole stable, not least because of Sweeney's injury, but also because the yard is in such good form recently.

Buckler was philosophical afterwards, he said: "Nathan's injury is a big blow to us all, but the only fortunate thing I guess is that it is the summer months with little racing.

"Cullahill was a race once too much, but he looked and felt well at home, but like humans they get to a point of exhaustion, and he will now be turned out for the summer.

"We've had a great run, but these things happen in racing I'm afraid."

Buckler had to make jockey changes for Tuesday night's racing at Uttoxeter with Sweeney indisposed. Ian Popham was due to ride Tiger Breeze in the conditional jockeys race, whilst Buckler found an able deputy in AP McCoy to ride Mister Matt in the bet365 Handicap Chase.

KEECHY IS TV STAR!

SYMENE cricketer Richard Keech has been featured on national television recently following his display at the Somerset v Glamorgan Twenty/20 game.

His fame began when he went to take a catch as the ball was driven to the boundary. Unfortunately the Symondsbury stalwart who normally has a safe pair of hands dropped the catch and fell over in hilarious fashion. No he wasn't playing, he was a spectator at the game positioned immediately behind the boundary fence.

Richard went to catch the ball as it bounced up off the boundary rope, missed it and fell head over heels over the fence on to the grass. Commentator Mike Atherton thought it a scream and thought he must have been on the scrumpy as Keechy tail between his legs scuttled off to find sanctuary.

26-run victory for County cricketers

DARREN Cowley's 5 for 78 carried Dorset County Cricket team to a hard-fought 26-run victory over Wiltshire at Devizes last week.

At 132 for 3 the victory target of 289 appeared to be in range for the hosts. But slow left armer Cowley had different ideas as he conjured up a superb return of 36-17-78-5.

SCHOOL
ATHLETICSHolly misses out in Nationals

SPRINTER Holly Butt just missed out on a place in the final of the English Schools National Championships at Gateshead last week.

The Sir John Colfox School pupil qualified for the Inter Girls 100m final after finishing second in the South West Schools Championships at Exeter recently.

At Gateshead she finished fourth in her semi-final in a time of 12.30secs. However with only the first three certain to qualify for the final, her time was not quite good enough as one of the two fastest losers.

FETCH THAT!

■ Beaminster 1st XI batsman Fred Everitt's fine form continued at the weekend as he top scored with 55 in his team's convincing 114-run victory over Ferndown Wayfarers 2nds (see report on page 76).

Batey and Grossberg batter half-centuries

UPLYME & Lyme Regis continued their recent up-turn in form by hammering neighbours Kilming-ton by 85 runs at a sun-drenched KGV Playing Field on Saturday.

After losing the toss and being inserted, the hosts got off to a fine start when openers Mark Batey (34) and Rob Thom (31) put on a watchful 62 for the first wicket.

When Thom fell to Sri Lankan spinner Wickramaratne, Batey was joined by sibling Steve and the pair proceeded to add a further 69 for the second wicket.

Wickramaratne then removed Mark Batey to bring skipper Ashley Caddy to the crease.

Caddy (34) and Steve Batey continued the run-fest with 75-run stand for the third wicket.

But the star of the innings, which finished on 246 for 5, was undoubtedly Batey (97) who was dismissed at the death agonisingly just short of a first century of the season.

At 78 for 1 the visitors were in with a shout but when David Cook (67) and captain Tom Godding (31) were back in the hutch the innings subsided and eventually fell well short of the required 247. Caddy (9-2-32-4) was top performer with the ball although Jamie Toates, Neil Price and Steve Batey all chipped-in with two wickets apiece.

◆ UPLYME & Lyme Regis 2nd XI recorded their third straight victory with an 81-run at 2nd XI Division D (East) leaders Whimble. Batting first, Uplyme carded 175 all out with Shannon Grossberg (54) scoring his maiden half-century for the club.

Grossberg was well supported by Mike Holding (22) and Paul Crompton (18) as they compiled crucial partnerships of 39 and 51 for the sixth and seventh wickets.

The hosts reply saw James Dunford strike early but it was Jack Lamb-Wilson (12-2-30-5) and Rod Holmes (10-2-24-4) who did all the damage aided by Crompton who pounced three catches.
